

Ron & Maggie Simpson
A Legacy of Kindness, Commitment, and Compassion

It is important to Ron and Maggie to leave Legacy gifts in their wills to their favourite charities, including St. Joseph's Villa Foundation and it makes them feel good knowing they are helping others.

When you think of Ron and Maggie Simpson, the words that immediately come to mind are kind, thoughtful, and generous. Their lives are a testament to the power of faith, family, and community, and their impact has touched every corner of the Villa and beyond.

Family is the heart of everything they do. Their unwavering dedication to both their own loved ones and their extended Villa family is evident in every act of service and generosity.

Ron served on the Villa Board for many years and currently brings his expertise as a member of the Foundation Board. A retired CPA, his keen insight and steady hand have helped guide many important decisions.

Their work is mission-driven and faith-oriented, reflecting the very values upon which the Villa was founded. In every action, they embody the legacy of the Sisters—with humility, compassion, and heart. They have consistently been strong and faithful donors. But their contributions go far beyond financial.

The Simpsons have always stepped forward—without hesitation—whenever there has been a need. Whether they are supporting long-term care, the Adult Day Program, or Hospice. Week after week, they help transfer residents to Mass and provide transportation for special recreation events. They are dependable, caring, and involved—true examples of living service.

Ron and Maggie are also planning ahead, ensuring their legacy of care continues while making sure their family remains supported. Their commitment to leaving the world better than they found it is both inspiring and enduring. As Ron says “You can’t take it with you and it feels good knowing we will continue to help others when we’re gone.”

We are honored to recognize Ron and Maggie Simpson for their exceptional generosity, faithful service, and deep-rooted love for the Villa and its mission. They remind us all what it means to give wholeheartedly.

“A legacy gift isn’t just a donation—it’s a visionary investment in the world you want to leave behind”